CQUNIVERSITY INDUSTRY INSIGHTS

CQUniversity would like to invite Year 10 students to attend our Business and Accounting Industry Insights Evening. This event aims to introduce local Year 10 students interested in business and accounting to local industry professionals, providing valuable insights into future career possibilities. CQUniversity will showcase study options to prepare students for successful careers in these fields. The event will highlight our Start Uni Now (SUN) program, where students can kickstart their business and accounting studies while they are still at school.

Industry Networking: Attending Industry professionals will pitch their careers to the students, and will be available for networking. If students decide to study a Business and Accounting SUN unit, there will also be the opportunity to arrange work experience with these industry representatives in the Christmas school holidays, and/or the April school holidays, to complement their SUN study.

SUN Highlight: This event will highlight the business and accounting units offered for students to complete in their senior years. Students can then apply for direct entry into their business and accounting bachelor's degree and receive credit for the units they have already completed while studying at SUN.

Please see below the details for the Business and Accounting Industry Insights Evening:
